Second Despatch.

THE CASE OF JOHN A. PARKER AT HONG KONG—SECRETARY DOBBIN, ETC.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Sept. 24.

Commodore ABERCROMBIE, commanding the United States naval forces in the East Indies and Chinese Seas, has transmitted to our Government the correspondence between himself and the Governor of Hong Kong, Sir JOHN BOWRING, in relation to the seizure of JOHN A. PARKER, (on board the American bark Scotia Bonheur, of which he was an officer,) by a British police force, and about which statements have recently appeared in the newspapers.

It appears from the official dispatch that as soon as Commodore ABERCROMBIE became aware of the proceedings above referred to, he earnestly protested against them, asserting the doctrine that the United States Consul had authority in that and all similar cases, and thereby complained of the disourteous treatment to which Consul EYRAUD was subjected, owing to his intervention in behalf of Mr. PARKER. To this communication the Governor replied, claiming that Hong Kong being a British Possession, the authorities thereof were fully warranted in their acts, and entering into a recapitulation of certain points of international law in justification.

The consul had previously been permitted to sit with the judge to hear cases affecting American seamen, but on this occasion the privilege (of courtesy merely) was denied.

Having failed to settle the points involved, the American Commodore and the British Governor have referred the matter in issue to their respective Governments for a solution, involving the rights of consuls in cases where the liberty of the persons of their countrymen is affected abroad.)

Secretary DOBBIN writes from North Carolina that he is "comfortable and stronger," and that his health, so delicate when he left the city a few weeks ago, is improving.

Notwithstanding the decision of the Treasury Department in favor of paying the extra compensation to per diem employees of the House of Representatives, the money is not yet forthcoming; and, as a consequence, the claims are being sacrificed to Brokers. It is now stated that there has been no final decision with regard to the salaried employes. Though this question is comparatively trifling, it has occasioned much investigation and trouble.

GREAT LOSS OF PROPERTY—THIRTY VESSELS ASHORE ON LAKE MICHIGAN.

BUFFALO, Wednesday, Sept. 24.

The recent equinoctial storm has caused great damage among the shipping on Lake Erie and the Upper Lakes. Thirty vessels are known to have gone ashore on Lake Michigan. Among them are the brig Courtland, at Bois Blanc, with a cargo of wheat; the schooner S. J. Holley, at Presque Isle, with a cargo of wheat; the brig Columbia and schooner J. Shaw and Atlantic, at Grog Cove, all laden with wheat; the brig Manhattan and schooner Richard Mott, at South Manitou; the propeller R. N. Rice, Grand River, Michigan; the propeller [illegible], on the East shore of Lake Michigan; the schooner Flying Dutchman, in Lake Erie, above Dunkirk; and the schooner Hudson, at Pelee Passage Isle, Lake Huron, a total loss.

The schooner Ontario is ashore on the Canada side of Lake Ontario, near Kingston.

Many of the above vessels are total losses; some are already going to pieces. Several other vessels have reached Chicago so badly damaged, and it is feared that there have been other and more extensive losses.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

NEW-YORK CITY.

Half Off for Nicaragua and "the West."—The steamer Prize, for Nicaragua, was expected to sail yesterday at 3 o'clock from North Moore-street Pier. On inquiry we found that she was detained at the foot of Franklin-street, East River, near the Neptune Works, undergoing some trifling repair in her machinery, which had been unexpectedly found necessary. At 6 P. M. more than 300 passengers were on board, of which number the greater half were destined for California. It was then universally probable her repairs could be completed by midnight. The passengers appeared to be generally a superior class of people to those who left some time ago for the same destination.

Annual Fair of the American Institute.—The Twenty-eighth Annual Fair of the American Institute was opened, yesterday morning, at the Crystal Palace, and during the evening the usual address was delivered by the President, Hon. Henry Meigs. Dodworth's band was in attendance, and, notwithstanding many articles intended for exhibition are not yet arrived, and many that are there are not in their places, a very creditable appearance was made. The show will not have assumed the dignity of a well-ordered exhibition before Friday or Saturday next.

The Late Final Prize Fight—Conclusion of the Coroner's Inquest—The Verdict, &c., &c.—The inquisition upon the body ANDY KELLY was opened, and concluded at the Coroner's office yesterday afternoon. The was taken as follows:

John Farrell, residing at No. 66 James-street, being sworn, said: I was at the fight which took place on Thursday. I saw James Dunaway, John McDonald, Joseph Reynolds, John Whelan, Barney Agron, James Lafferty, John Robinson, John J. Richards, Jack Montgomery, Charles Kelley, Michael Kelly, Harry Gribben, Kit Burns, John Roach, Barney Lynch, Philip Clare, —— Small, James Collins, John Spence, Pat. Cosgrove and Mike Murphy; Kelly's seconds were Barney Aaron and Lafferty; Lynch's seconds were John Reach and Kit Burns; Harry Gribben was time-keeper; Jack Montgomery and Mike Murphy backers; Billy Cotton, alias Jerry Reardon was fighting against the field.

James Dennis, residing at No. 313 Water-street, deposed: I was present at the fight at the Palisades; all the persons named by the previous witness were present; Philip Clare and Harry Gribben were judges of the fight; I did not see any money bet on the result; James Siddons was there; the statement of the previous witness, as to the seconds at the fight, are correct; I knew that there was fight near to Newark for some time previous; I was not one of the persons who engaged the boat to take the parties there; I do not know whether the Captain of the boat was aware of the nature of the excursion when he started; I do not know Mr. B. Gage; I did not help to carry the body of Kelly off the boat.

The witnesses being all in, Coroner TRAVER addressed the jury, recapitulating the evidence in the case, and remarking that the law applicable to such offences as resulted in Kelly's death.

The jury then retired, and after a brief consultation, rendered the following verdict:

"That Andy Kelly came to his death by injuries received at the hands of Charles Lynch, while engaged in a prize fight near the Palisades, New-Jersey, Sept. 18, 1856; that James Dunaway, Barney Aaron, J. Lafferty, Harry Gribben, John Montgomery, Michael Murphy, Jerry Reardon alias "Bully Cotton," Philip Clare, and Patrick Cosgrove, were aiders and abettors at the fight."

WARRANTS OF ARREST

were then issued for the parties named in the verdict, not one of whom has yet been taken in custody. Many of the less guilty parties, simply spectators of the fight, have been apprehended, and ordered to give bail as witnesses, some to the amount of $500 and some in the sum of $1,000. All but four of these found the necessary bonds.

The police are in search of the principal actors, and there is no doubt that some of them will, before long, be captured. They cannot stay away from their haunts in New-York, and many of them would gladly return if convinced that they would be tried before a New-York jury. But they dread Jersey. Tiger, as they well know, the laws are strictly enforced. There, the influence of sympathetic Councilmen or ambitious Ward politicians would be of no avail in their behalf—and they dread a forced residence at Trenton. So they will probably keep away, for a time at least.

Suicide of a New-York Printer.

From the New-Orleans True Delta, Sept. 19.

A printer named GEORGE H. NIMMO, a native of Scotland, 32 years of age, committed suicide on Saturday night last, at his lodgings, No. 169 Carondelet-street, by taking poison. He had been indulging for the past week rather freely in the use of ardent spirits, the consequence of which was that he became restless and unable to sleep, and exhibited in his general demeanor all the unsettledness of mind which follows excess of this kind. About 11 o'clock on the night in question he came home and appeared to be in quite a jocular humor. His landlady's little daughter helped him to take off his coat, in doing which she felt something in one of the pockets, which she thought was a pistol. "Oh, Mr. NIMMO," said the little girl laughingly, "you have got a pistol in your pocket." "I have," replied he. "I've got the pistol to shoot you and gramma with." He put his hand into his pocket and drew forth a small phial, which he uncorked, and drained its contents at one draught, he threw the bottle away.

His landlady suspected that there was something wrong in the matter, and tried to thwart him, but to no purpose. He told her it was "but a little dose, which he had to take in order to obtain sleep." That sleep was the sleep of eternity. All aid offered by the physicians, a number of whom were present, proved unavailing. He bore an excellent character amongst his brother craftsmen, and was deemed an ornament to the profession; but the workings of the wine-cup insidiously undermined, not only his health, but his mental powers as well. An inquest was held on the body by the City Coroner, when a verdict in accordance with the circumstances was returned.

He was interred in Greenwood Cemetery on Sunday evening, by the members of the Typographical Union of this city, in the trunk of the Association. Requiescat in pace.

Mr. NIMMO was formerly employed in the composing room of the TIMES office. He was a competent workman, a man of much intelligence and of pleasing manners. His untimely death, under circumstances so painful, will cause deep regret among the printers of this City, by whom he was well known and greatly respected.

Commissioner of Health.—The Commissioners met this evening at the City Hall pursuant to adjournment.

Dr. BURNWELL, resident physician, said that the report, which had been published stating that epidemic cases of yellow fever had existed in this city was untrue, and calculated unjustly to injure the business interests of the whole city. He said that he had made it his special business to see every suspicious case of sickness, fever, and that he was prepared to say that no epidemic case of yellow fever has existed within the city this season.

The Doctor said that he had been on many "wild goose chases" since he was appointed to the Board. For instance, a man body told him that a suspicious case of yellow fever existed in Hester-street. He proceeded to said street were removing from there in great haste at the request of the disease, that he went to the building expecting the fever to find the old country of epidemic yellow fever in the city of New-York! But he found only one case of sickness, and that was disease of the bowels, growing out of too much corn for breakfast. He said that the above was a specimen of these silly reports.

On motion, adjourned to the usual hour.

A Sudden Bereavement.—Coroner HILLS conducted an inquisition yesterday upon the body of Miss Harriet BURNHAM, aged 20 years, late of No. 206 East Thirteenth-street, who died on Monday night, after a short illness. The jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to her death by organic disease of the heart, but that her death was hastened by a fully merited upon her by her husband, John McADAMS.

A WRITTEN WILL was discovered among the deceased's effects.

From the evidence taken it appears that McADAMS (who is a baker) was married to deceased, (his second wife,) about two years since; since the period there have been constant quarrels, he has beaten and cut his wife, and finally deserted her, leaving her in destitute circumstances, and she died of a broken heart. The husband is in custody.

THE RECENT CASE OF ALLEGED ABORTION—COMPLAINT DISMISSED.—About Aug. 1, as will be remembered, complaints were made by Elizabeth Kelsey of No. 192 Varick-street, against Mr. Charles Schultz, brick-layer, residing at No. 146 Greenwich-street, and Mrs. Anna C. Lohman, otherwise known as Madame Restell, the former for enticing, and the latter for procuring an abortion, as alleged, upon the complainant. For several days past the matter has been under examination before Justice Osborne, and the case was brought to a close on Tuesday. The evidence adduced failed to sustain the allegations set forth in the original affidavit.

Yesterday was offered to show that the complaint was prompted by Mr. Schultz. The prosecution in the conduct of the investigation was under no less in Counsel than favorable impression; she was laughing much of the time, which for one in her situation was decidedly out of character. The Magistrate, after carefully considering the evidence, discharged the prisoners, and Mr. Schultz was honorably discharged accordingly. Such was also the decision in the case of Madame Restell.

A Female arrested for shooting a Peddler.—A German woman, named MATILDA BROWN, was brought before Justice OSBORNE on Tuesday, charged with shooting with a pistol one WILLIAM BURNS, a peddler living at No. 169 Greenwich-street.

The prisoner keeps a beer-cellar, and late on Monday night it appears Burns went to the cellar which was closed and demanded admittance. Being refused, he made a great noise and began to kick the door with his feet. Mrs. Brown, her husband, being absent, strongly refused to admit Burns, who thereupon became more violent, whereupon Mrs. Brown produced a revolver, each barrel of which was heavily loaded, and discharged rapidly four shots at Burns, each of which took effect on his person—some in the left arm and some in other portions of his body. Finding himself wounded he raised an alarm, which brought to the spot some policemen who took Mrs. Brown in custody.

She was committed for trial in default of $500 bail.

A Sample of the way Custom-House Work is done.—Before the public has entirely forgotten the story of Madame Rousseau and her forty cases of Cabinet goods, which were seized at the Astor House, we ask to call attention to one feature of the transaction, which has not been sufficiently noticed.

Commissioner MORRISON, in the case decision which exonerated the master of the Good Hope, in which our French friend arrived, from all blame in the premises, threw out a pretty strong hint that the real party in fault was a Mr. Bouvier, the Custom-House officer, who boarded the vessel—a conclusion which the evidence takes off the position in the Secretary of the Treasury for the reinstatement of the forfeiture of the Good Hope gone to smoughan.

Not only did the inspector permit forty large boxes to be landed as personal baggage, without the slightest examination of their contents, but he assures us the time that he didn't believe they were worth much, and "didn't want to overhaul the d—d things," and the excuse afterwards, that he relied on a promise of the Captain's that it was all right, although coupled with the expression of a desire to be rid of the vessel, convict him of still greater neglect of duty, for they show that it was willful and deliberate.

The next of Mr. Bouvier's conduct was of a piece with this. His bundle of Custom-House papers was left in the pantry, and the ship's manifest, with his account book, on the cabin table. The hatches were locked or unlocked but once in his presence, and most, if not all the keys, as well as those of the state-room, which he never locked into, remained in the hands of the ship's officers.

We beg those whom it may concern, and it should concern all good citizens, to pause over these facts for a moment. A large ship from Calcutta—the land of shawls and small trinkets of great value—with goods on board, paying duties to the amount of thirty-six thousand dollars, arrives at this port. The Inspector, who happens to board her, is too lazy to open a single package out of forty, in which two women protend that their forty lines is stowed; not only leaves the hatches and state-rooms open, but, as if to give every facility to whomever might be disposed to improve the opportunity, puts both the manifest and a Custom-House permit in a convenient part of the vessel; and after thus arranging things to his mind, finds no necessity of making his daily visits more than two hours in length, or of being sober when on board.

Of no slight consequence in itself, this transaction assumes a very grave aspect, when viewed as an initial case. So flagrant a breach of duty can scarcely be unconscious. It must have had precedents; it must be one of many, of which the public has never heard, either because rogues have not improved their opportunities, or as is most likely, because their success was not found out. Regarded in the most favorable light, this case betokens a want of care in both the selection and oversight of the subordinates of Government, which is highly reprehensible. The inspector in question, had, it is true, been in office but four or five months; but according to what test was he deemed qualified, at the outset? When qualification was ever taken to make sure that he knew and performed his duty? Of course he has now been dismissed, and of course his employers hold up their hands in virtuous surprise at the facts which the tardiness has developed. We need not presume that they knew the true state of things; enough that they ought to have known it.

If this be a fair sample of the style in which Custom-House work is done, and the practical summary of our elaborate tariff laws, imposing stringency and numerous patriots in the enjoyment of fat offices, why not apply the free-and-easy principle which it suggests openly and above-board? Why go round so much in supporting an establishment which is worse than useless? If it is necessary to provide a hospital for invalid and a nursery for sucking politicians, let us have them by all means, but let us also call them by their true names.

Not that we are so ignorant of the world as to look for immaculate virtue amongst Government officials, at any time, the emoluments by which they earn their appointment generally are large, and just now they should be pushed with a large share of sympathy. Few respectable men would accept of a post on the uncertain tenure, and with the heavy incumbrances which attend every change of office, see this Fall. He consequently thinks and thinks and thinks has to be too freely [illegible] CHARAS [illegible]

But we have a right to expect, in all thoughtful minds, a decent respect for the public, and a little attention to the common rules of honesty. We shall, however, be glad to hear from this question that we have been over-hasty in generalizing from an instance of such gross faithlessness.

Several of the witnesses on behalf of the steamer testify to a change of the course of the brig, which is now understood not to be disputed. But, it is to be noted, that the witnesses differed but slightly in their evidence that they rather inferred the change from the direction of the steamer, and therefore in the brig off their starboard quarter, and therefore to the south and east of them; and also, for the further reason that the steamer had starboarded her helm for the purpose of giving the brig a wider berth to pass. The first officer, Woodfine, whose watch it was, and who had charge of the navigation of the steamer, has given a very detailed and full account of the transaction, and is beyond all doubt the most to be relied on from his position and duties upon the vessel. He says that he saw the brig change just, or immediately before the collision; that he did not see her change her course before this, and that her light had been under his eye from the time she was first seen on the steamer.

In another part of his examination he says—"that before he saw any change of the course of the brig, she was heading west or northerly of west. This course substantially agrees with that testified to by the hands on the brig. The starboard lookout, Ashbridge, who first saw the light, and reported it to the first officer, also observes that, when he first made out the course of the brig she was heading in the westward.

Now, taking the account of the transaction as given by the first officer of the steamer, it is quite clear, that no change took place in the course of the brig in any sense that goes to contradict the hands on board of her. In the confusion of the impending peril, when all on board must have expected their vessel to be instantly crushed by the overwhelming weight and force of the steamer, it is not surprising if the brig was left to the direction of the winds and waves, the hands instead of continuing to guide her, looking out for the safety of their lives. The helm was probably abandoned. But, if it was not, and an unskillful movement of the vessel made at the moment, it cannot be attributed as a fault. The fault lay upon the steamer for bringing upon the vessel the peril.

It is not claimed in the answer, nor by the witnesses on the part of the steamer that the night was so dark, the utmost vigilance by those on board of her could not descry the brig with her light in time to have taken the proper measures to avoid her. The defence is put exclusively upon the fact, that she changed her course under circumstances that produced the disaster.

If the other ground had been taken the obvious answer would be, that the rate of the speed of the steamer was too great for a night so dark that a vessel with a bright light could not be seen in time to take care and avoid her. Indeed, the first officer says he could see an object from the steamer that night a mile without any light upon it.

Upon the whole, after the fullest consideration of the facts in the case, I am constrained to reverse the decree below, and to condemn the steamer for the damages sustained by the collision.

For appellant, Mr. DeForest. For appellee, Mr. Cushing.

PASSENGER CONTRACT—NON-PERFORMANCE AT THE DAY—REGULATION.

William Cobb, appellee, vs. John T. Howard and others—NELSON, C. J.—This libel was filed, by Cobb against the respondents, to recover for a breach of contract to carry certain passengers in the steamship New-Orleans from Panama to San Francisco, the vessel to leave on her trip in the month of April, 1850. The fare paid was one hundred and fifty dollars for each passenger, and an engagement given for the passage in the form of a ticket. This suit involves the amount of ten tickets. The ten purchasers presented themselves at Panama on the first of April to take their passage; but the Orleans had not then arrived, and did not till the month of August following. She had left the port of New-York in February, but had encountered rough and stormy weather, and was obliged to put into St. Thomas for repairs, where she was detained a long time, and which was probably known to the passengers at Panama. The brig Alonzo M. Bird, at the time of the libellant, was at this place in April, and sailed from thence to San Francisco on the third of the month. The ten passengers whose tickets are in question took passage in her, and transferred these tickets to the master, which were received for their fare. This libel is filed to recover the amount, $1,500, and interest. The court below decreed in favor of the libellant.

It is objected that the suit is not in the name of the original parties to the contract for the passage; but it is every day's practice in the Admiralty to allow suits to be brought in the name of the assignee of a chose in action. The libellant is the real owner of the tickets, and, therefore, the proper person to bring the suit, and in his own name.

It is also objected that the disabling of the New-Orleans by stress of weather excuses the fulfilment of the contract at the time provided for. How this might be in a case where the passenger was on the vessel at the time of the casualty, causing delay in the voyage, it is not now necessary to determine. Certainly, until the passenger becomes connected with the vessel as a passenger on board, he is in no way subject to her casualties and misfortunes occurring through stress of weather, or otherwise. He is a stranger to her. The contract bound the owner to have his vessel at the place and time designated; that he had stipulated for as a part consideration for the price paid, and assumed upon himself the responsibility of performance; and the failure operated a breach of the engagement, and subjected him to a return of the price paid. The winds and waves or weather are no excuse for the non-fulfilment of a contract as to the time of the commencement of the voyage. If these circumstances had been intended as elements of it they should have been expressly provided for by the owner, and then all parties concerned would have understood it.

It is said that the passengers should have waited the month of April, and that the owner had the whole month to furnish his vessel there. Admitting that he had the month, the utmost that can be claimed is—that the passengers took the risk if the vessel arrived within the month, of losing their right to demand a return of the fare. There was no abandonment of the voyage, for the tickets for the passage-money were appropriated to the completion of it. The passengers, doubtless, knew the disabled condition of the Orleans, and that she could not arrive at Panama in time to fulfill her engagement; and it would have been an idle act to have waited the month, especially as there seems to have been no provision made by the owners for a substitution of another vessel, nor indeed, for aught that appears, any interest or concern taken in the matter.

The decree below I think right, and should be affirmed.

For appellants, Mr. Cutting and Mr. Sherwood. For appellee, Messrs. Beebe and Donohue.

Keyo vs. Morris.—Order to be entered directing Peter Morris to pay to Mr. Gino the $200 mentioned in the papers, and $10 costs of this motion; and on his refusal to do so the resale made to him is to be vacated, and original sale to stand.

Monnette vs. Lowry.—Motion denied without costs.

Hicks vs. Hicks.—Motion denied. Mother to retain custody of children.

Diddell vs. Diddell.—Judgment of divorce granted.

THE BURNING OF THE MOUNT VERNON HOTEL—PAINFUL RUMOR.—The Philadelphia Inquirer says that a gentleman who resides at Cape May, states that it is now the general impression there, that Mr. CAIN, the father of the Cain family who were burned up by the destruction of the Mount Vernon Hotel, was murdered and robbed before the hotel was set on fire. The jewelry of all the members of the family was found near the charred remains, but not a dollar of gold or silver coin has been recovered, and there is every reason to believe that there was considerable in their possession. Young CAIN, who escaped from the hotel, but was so badly burned that he died soon afterwards, alleged that he saw a man in his room when he left it. The remains of the girls were found near those of the father, and it is inferred, from their peculiar position, that they were also murdered. This portion of the family could not have retired to their rooms, as the contents of their their pockets, &c., were found near them.

GAS AND FIXTURES.

THE AUBIN PORTABLE GAS WORKS are now admitted to be the best known, whether for private houses or for villages, because of their simplicity of construction and operation, their freedom from smell, and their unrivaled economy; they do not require scientific skill or constant attendance; they will work night and day if required, or they may be stopped and restarted at a moment's notice; they are not dangerous in operating. These great advantages, in a measure, result from the fact that our apparatus is the only one constructed in metal, and not on the wooden tanks. Parties under our patents a safe and profitable investment. Parties in search of business will do well to investigate. If they do not call on us, we will be pleased to call on them. We are now at work in Jersey City, at the Bowery Theatre, Astor-place, and in many other places. In a few weeks they will be in use for several villages now in contemplation. AGRICULTURAL.

UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The Fourth Annual Exhibition of the UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY will be held at Powelton, (Philadelphia,) on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11.

The first exhibition of this Society, held at Springfield, Mass., in October, 1852, was devoted exclusively to an exhibition of Horses; at Springfield, Ohio, 1853, Cattle alone were exhibited; at Boston, 1855, all departments of Farm Stock—Cattle, Horses, Sheep and Swine, were shown.

The Society, encouraged by past success, and by the approbation of the Agricultural community, now propose to offer Premiums, not only for Domestic Animals, but also for Poultry, and the results of the Fruit Garden, the Grain Field, and the Vineyard, and for Agricultural Implements and Machinery.

Premiums from $25 to $300, amounting in the aggregate to over $10,000, will be offered for the various classes of Domestic Animals, Fruits, American Wines, Vegetables, Grains, and Agricultural Implements and Machinery.

A local Committee of forty citizens of Philadelphia, representing the various branches of industry, has already been appointed to cooperate with the officers of the Society in perfecting arrangements for the Exhibition; and $15,000 have been guaranteed to meet expenses. The material aid, coupled with the excellence of the selected location, and the large amount of premiums offered, induces the expectation that the Exhibition of 1856 will be superior to any of its predecessors.

Favorable arrangements for the transportation of stock and other articles will be made with the various railroads.

The List of Entries, the Award of Premiums, and the Proceedings, will be published in the Journal of the Society for 1856.

The Premium List, with the Regulations and Programme of the Exhibition, will be furnished on application to Mr. JOHN McGOWAN, Assistant Secretary of the United States Agricultural Society, No. 166 Chestnut-st., (rooms of the Philadelphia Agricultural Society,) or by addressing the Secretary, at Boston.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND.

It appears to be the common opinion in Paris that the French and English cabinets are at issue on several points, though no one supposes that those differences can essentially affect the alliance.

The investment of General O'DONNELL with the grand cordon of the Legion of Honor, and the marked attention paid to Count MONNY by the Emperor of Russia, are not likely to please the English Government. The English cabinet takes the same side as Turkey and Austria on the question of uniting the Danubian Principalities. The French Government is still undecided on this point.

MARK THE FACTS.

J. GURNEY'S Establishment, No. 840 Broadway, is the oldest and most extensive establishment in the United States.

GURNEY was the first to introduce the ART of Photography in this City.

GURNEY has recently made important alterations and improvements in his establishment.

GURNEY has now greater facilities for producing finer work in every branch than has heretofore been done in this country.

GURNEY has still in his employ the best of his old artists.

GURNEY has recently added to the above a talented corps of American, French, and German artists.

GURNEY'S colored Photographs of all sizes need only to be seen to be appreciated; they speak for themselves.

GURNEY'S plain, untouched Photographs were never equaled; so say Artists and the best judges.

GURNEY'S Daguerreotypes are universally pronounced superior productions.

GURNEY has received more testimonials for his skill than any other artist in the profession.

GURNEY received the only medal for Photographic productions, at the late Paris exhibition—consequently GURNEY stands at the head of the world in the Photographic Art.

GURNEY has not removed any branch of his business to any part of the City.

GURNEY has no connection with any other establishment in any other part of the City.

GURNEY attends personally to his patrons and friends and has for the last sixteen years.

GURNEY will be most happy to continue that attention, and will still endeavor to please all who may give him a visit at his Photographic Palace of Art, No. 840 Broadway, corner Leonard-street, New-York.

FACTS

THAT NEED NO MASKING.

Progressive.

From Humphrey's Photographic Journal of Sept. 1855.

We do not approve of the plan of puffing the members of the Photographic profession by way of personals. This may do very well when one is trying to bring his works into favor with such as are susceptible to flattery, and measures out their support according to the amount of editorial ink used as bait. We feel confident that those who best know will agree with us that it is no puffing, when we can say with so much truth, that the Photographic Art this day owes, in no small degree, its position in this country to Mr. C. D. FRENICHS, a gentleman who was the first to introduce the Photographic process upon an extensive scale in America. Previous to his establishing himself here, he visited Europe, and, with an enterprise worthy of imitation, he was not satisfied with first securing what knowledge he could himself gain, but also engaged the services of several of the most eminent Parisian Artists. He then, in connection with Mr. GURNEY, opened an establishment on a plan unequaled in the world.

After successfully following his profession, in connection with Mr. G., for some time, he has opened a "Temple of Art" in this City, under his own proteccship and supervision. We have honestly and candidly presented the foregoing, feeling that it is justly due to a fellow-laborer.

FACTS WHICH ARE KNOWN.—PHOTOGRAPHS, DAGUERREOTYPES, AMBROTYPES, &c.—The undersigned having removed the Photographic department and his Parisian artists from his old place of business, No. 349 Broadway, to his new and magnificent establishment, No. 585 Broadway, would call the attention of the public to the fact that his Galleries, and the pictures made in them, are superior to anything before exhibited. Those desiring Photographs, Daguerreotypes, or Ambrotypes, executed by artists of refined taste, would do well to call and judge for themselves.
